

U.S. Denounces Action Against Buddhists

TOKYO (AP) — President Ngo Dinh Diem's armed forces raided pagodas of rebellious Buddhists at Saigon today in a crackdown quickly denounced by the U.S. government.

President Kennedy's administration, which has supplied 14,000 American military men and $500 million a year to back Diem's Communist threatened regime, charged the Saigon government violated pledges for a peaceful reconciliation with the Buddhists.

Diem, a Roman Catholic, declared a state of siege throughout his nation of 15 million and ordered the army to move in on the yellow-robed leaders of the Buddhist challenge to his government.

The Saigon Radio announced raids were made on three pagodas in the capital.

Though the monks are pledged to nonviolence, it said a submachine gun, 14 plastic explosive charges and 10 daggers were seized at the Ravada pagoda.

The State Department announced in Washington American disapproval of Diem's maneuvers.

"On the basis of information from Saigon," it said, "it appears the government of the republic of Viet Nam has instituted repressive measures against Vietnamese Buddhist leaders."

"The action represents a direct violation by the Vietnamese government of assurances that it was pursuing a policy of reconciliation with the Buddhists."

"The United States deplures repressive actions of this nature."

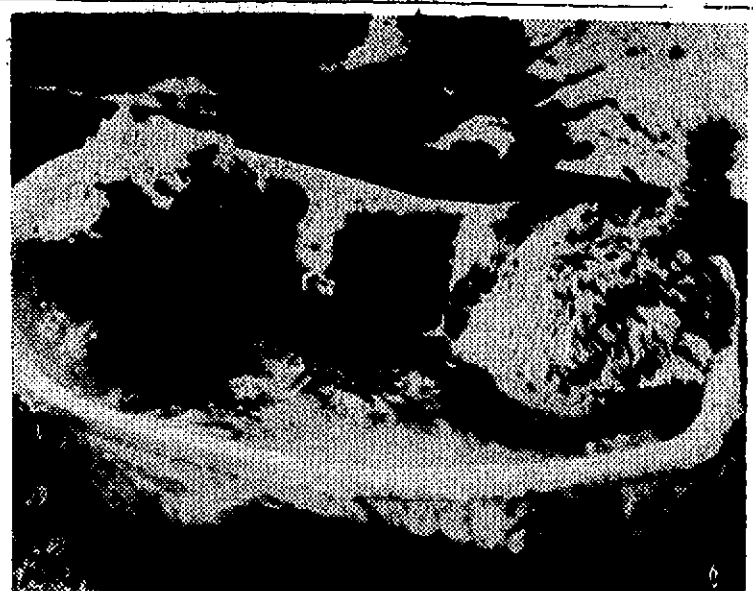

High U.S. authorities in Washington said, however, that American aid for the war against the Communists would continue.

A proclamation broadcast by Saigon Radio said Diem's government had adopted an "attitude of extreme conciliation" toward the Buddhists, "but the government's efforts have not met with a similar attitude."

The president blamed "a few (Buddhists) who indulge in political speculation, exploit religion, and taken advantage of the desire for extreme conciliation of the government to multiply illegal acts with the aim of stirring up disturbances to sabotage that policy, prevent the application of the law, damage the prestige of Buddhism, thereby only benefitting communism."

Diem ordered the army to take "all necessary measures to restore security and public order."

Post Plans to Fight Judgment

ATLANTA (AP)—The Saturday Evening Post plans to fight a $3,060,000 judgment awarded former University of Georgia football coach Wallace Butts by a federal jury which decided that the Post had ruined Butts' reputation.

It was one of the largest libel judgments ever rendered.

Immediately after the jury reported on Tuesday, attorneys for the Curtis Publishing Co. said they will appeal.

The jury, composed of 12 men who never played football, heard 11 days of testimony and arguments regarding a March 23 Post story that said Butts gave inside information on the Georgia team to Alabama coach Paul (Bear) Bryant before the 1962 Georgia-Alabama game. Alabama won 35-0.

Much of the testimony, especially by football coaches and players, dealt with intricate football maneuvers and strategy.

Butts, who was athletic director at Georgia at the time of the game, sued for $10 million. He and Bryant have maintained their Continued on Page Three

Defense to Question Tax Expert

By LEN TALIAFERRO
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A government accountant backtracked today and said it could be possible state Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst owed only $11,358 in income taxes for 1956-59.

Accountant Cecil Kelly had testified previously that Hurst's net unpaid income tax would be $22,909.

Hurst is being tried in federal District Court on charges of evading $22,913 in taxes during the four-year period.

Under cross examination by defense attorney William A. Bowen, Kelly testified that he had failed to take into consideration that Hurst's 1959 return was amended and filed as a joint return and that he had overlooked the money paid by Hurst for some sheep during the years 1956-58.

Kelly said he computed the 1959 return as a separate return. He said that computing the 1959 return as a joint return, Hurst would owe only $17,204.

Bowen then asked Kelly to figure Hurst's income tax due for the other three years if filed under joint returns. After completing the calculations and giving Hurst credit for $5,655 paid on his amended 1959 return, Kelly said Continued on Page Three

The judge issued the order after attorneys for the airline told the court that the walkout, which began in New York shortly after midnight and spread to other United terminals across the nation, would halt operations by Thursday unless it was stopped.

The order remains in effect until 11 p.m. CDT, Aug. 30.

Arkansan Elected by Secretaries

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP) — John Browning of Little Rock, Ark., administrative aide to Gov. Orval E. Faubus, has been elected secretary of the Southern Governors Conference Press Secretaries Association.

Little Rock (AP)—The state Highway Commission has placed a 40,000 pound gross load limit and a speed of 35 miles per hour on trucks operating on several sections of highways it said were being damaged in southeast Arkansas.

Chairman Wayne Hampton said most of the damage was being done by trucks hauling material for stabilization projects on the Arkansas River, but that some were hauling farm products.

The commission also ordered a limit of 16,000 pounds for single axle loads and 28,000 pounds for tandem axles.

Hampton said signs notifying drivers of the new restrictions would be posted today and the new rules would be enforced by the Weights and Standards Division.

The restrictions affect these sections of highways:

Highway 1 from Gillette to Back Gate in Arkansas County; 54 from Dumas to Back Gate; 169 from Highway 1 to Arkansas Post; 44 from Highway 1 to Tishier in Arkansas County; 88 from Altheimer to Reydel in Arkansas County and all of Highway 276.

Hampton said similar restrictions were authorized for, but not placed upon Highway 11 from Grady to the Arkansas River and Highway 114 from Gould to the river.

New Violence Explodes in Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Seething racial tensions exploded with new violence Tuesday night and left Birmingham fearful of still more trouble when its schools desegregate two weeks from today.

A dynamite bomb ripped away part of the fashionable home of a Negro attorney, and minutes later angry gangs of Negroes roamed the streets, hurling rocks at police and passersby.

No one was injured in the bombing at the home of Arthur D. Shores, an active participant in the struggle against segregation. Two policemen were struck by rocks, but were not believed seriously hurt.

Two Negroes were jailed on charges of rock-throwing and another for carrying a gun.

Police Chief Jamie Moore said his officers, with the help of deputies from the sheriff's office, broke up the rock-throwing crowds and restored order two and a half hours after the bomb tore a four-foot hole in a corner of Shores' garage, which is attached to the eight-room brick house.

A Cadillac parked in the garage was damaged.

Shores was alone in the house, watching television in a bedroom and waiting for his family to return from a movie.

The force of the blast left the lawn, driveway and interior of the house littered with glass, roofing and splintered wood. The explosion was heard miles away.

Negro ministers, including the Rev. A.D. King, whose own home was dynamited in another bombing three months ago, climbed to the top of a police car to plead with the shouting Negro mob to disperse.

"If you are going to kill someone, kill me," shouted King, whose brother, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., is one of the nation's foremost integration leaders.

Another barrage of rocks answered his appeal.

Police fired rifle and shotgun blasts into the air to break up the yelling crowd, estimated by police at 1,000 or more.

After the Negroes finally left, Moore ordered the area around Shores' home roped off to keep bystanders away.

City schools have been ordered by the federal courts to start desegregation at the beginning of the fall term Sept. 4.

The integration will start with the 12th grade in high school.

There have been no open threats of violence for the opening of schools, but a tear gas incident last week and the bombing and rioting Tuesday night left residents uneasy.

Party Silent on Faubus' Comment

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Democratic State Committee Secretary Leon B. Catlett of Little Rock said Tuesday he had no comment on Gov. Orval E. Faubus' statement at White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., that he might support a Republican for president in 1964.

Arkansas Democratic Party rules say that no person shall vote in a Democratic party election "who is affiliated with, or supports, the Republican party, or any other political party or organization which is opposed to the principles of the Democratic Party."

The statement was attributed to Faubus Sunday at the opening of the Southern Governors Conference.

In Washington, the four Arkansas members of Congress, each a Democrat, said they intended to support Democratic candidates in the 1964 presidential election.

Life of MacArthur to Be Published

MacArthur's memoirs, written at the age of 83, give his version of controversial events of World War II in the Far East, and will deal in part with his ouster as leader of nation's forces in Korea by President Truman in 1951.

Life Magazine also has purchased all rights to the memoirs, including motion picture and television. The price was not disclosed.

Against Ban, Officer May 'Fade Away'

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The word in the capital today is that Gen. Thomas S. Power was the lone, strong holdout against the limited nuclear test ban treaty among all military field commanders.

This, in turn, raises the question of what, if anything, might happen to the chief of the Strategic Air Command for his stand against the pact amid the administration's all-out effort to get it ratified.

Power has lined up with Dr. Edward Teller, noted nuclear physicist, against the treaty, although not so emphatically as Teller, who has said ratification would be "a tragic and dreadful mistake."

Testifying before a Senate subcommittee, Power said the treaty "is not in the best interests of the United States." He is reported to have said also he has less confidence than others that the United States could maintain its present nuclear weapon superiority if the treaty were ratified.

On other subjects and on other occasions words no stronger than these have caused trouble for military men. Adm. George W. Anderson, former chief of naval operations, is retired and on the way to becoming an ambassador because testimony he gave congressional committees clashed with that of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

But educated guessing in the Pentagon—from which McNamara is absent on vacation—was that the civilian directorate might force any indirect punitive measures against Power. The general will reach a mandatory retirement point in a little over a year.

Another Escape Hole Starts for Trapped Miners

By JAMES V. LAMB
Associated Press Staff Writer
HAZZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Drilling of a new escape hole for the three trapped miners began today.

Two of the men trapped 331 feet underground and able to talk to the surface through a six-inch hole, reported they had re-established contact, after nearly 40 hours, with a companion who is separated from them by a wall of debris in the tunnel where they fled after the main mine shaft walls collapsed eight days ago.

But Arthur Joyce, a state mine inspector, cast doubt today that there had been any contact with Louis Bova, 42.

The other trapped men, David Fellin, 58, and Henry Throne, 28, set off a scene of wild rejoicing when they told of talking briefly with Bova and then getting answering knocks on the mine wall after they no longer could maintain voice contact with him.

This morning, however, Joyce said that at the time the other men reported hearing from Bova he (Joyce) could hear nothing.

The other men requested, and received, small tools to try and dig toward where Bova was trapped.

Two six-inch rescue holes have been drilled into the mine—the lifeline one through which Fellin and Throne talk and receive supplies, and the second one which broke through Tuesday night into the area where Bova is believed trapped.

Joyce listened at the end for Bova while the other miners talked through the companion hole some distance away.

Asked why Fellin and Throne were not questioned about his feeling that Bova had said nothing, Joyce replied: "We didn't want to get them excited."

Bova's wife, Eva, 32, continued to hold out hope after learning of the report from the other miners.

However, one of his brothers, Peter, 58, said: "My brother is going to die. I know it and he knows it. But his wife is there and he doesn't want her to know the truth. He's been a miner too long not to realize the shape he's in."

Drilling of a new escape hole began shortly after dawn as a dense fog shrouded the area. It was so thick at the time it was impossible to see the top of the 10-story-tall drilling rig.

Scientists for Treaty Called in by Government

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department's top scientist testified today the Soviets could not gain any substantial advantage under the limited nuclear test ban treaty even if they "cheat to the maximum extent possible."

Dr. Harold Brown, defense director of research and engineering, added that if the treaty is fully observed U.S. nuclear superiority over the Russians actually will improve.

Brown thus took issue with the views expressed Tuesday by Dr. Edward Teller, Air Force nuclear consultant, who said ratification of the treaty would be "a dreadful and tragic mistake."

Brown testified at a public session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee at which members of the Senate Armed Services and the Joint Atomic Energy committees sat in. This is the same forum before which Teller delivered his blast at the treaty.

This was the seventh day of the group's hearing on the proposal to ban all nuclear testing underground.

The President:

—Sharply denied a Teller charge that the administration curtailed atmospheric tests last year for political reasons.

—Disclosed that preparations for U.S. Pacific tests are already under way as a precaution to Soviet violation of the treaty.

—Disputed a central Teller contention—that the Soviet Union is ahead in the antimissile race and that the treaty would cement the Soviet lead.

On these points Kennedy said:

1. After the Soviets broke the three-year test moratorium in 1961, the United States set off 36 atomic explosions in the air and 97 underground. Although atmospheric shots were held to a minimum, because of the hazard from radioactive fallout, several more were fired than originally planned.

2. In response to senatorial demands, the administration is sending the foreign relations and armed services committees a letter detailing plans for Kennedy's four promised safeguards against any treaty violation. These are continued nuclear laboratory work, readiness to resume atmospheric testing, a vigorous series of underground tests and improvement in methods of detecting sneak tests.

3. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara already has given the most specific and clear answer possible on the antimissile missile—that the Soviet Union is not ahead in this field and U.S. development of this defense weapon does not hinge on atmospheric tests.

"A good many other scientists with comparable experience," including Nobel Prize winners, dispute Teller's views, Kennedy said.

Gold Flow Halt Brings Loud Outcry

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Most schemes to stop the slow loss of U.S. gold to foreigners have one thing in common—loud outcries of protest.

These will be on tap again today as Congress opens hearings on the administration's proposal for a tax of up to 15 per cent on American purchases of foreign securities from foreigners.

As the hearings start, the Treasury has just lost another $50 million of its gold, bringing the total so far this year to $395 million. From 1958 to date the drain has been $7.5 billion.

The cries of distress today may not be as widely noticed as those brought forth by a former scheme to curbe the outflow of Yankee dollars by keeping at home the wives and children of overseas-stationed GIs.

But the opposition to the tax plan is widespread in American financial circles, and also in those of other countries. Canada and Japan have been especially vocal, fearing their sales of securities here will be crippled.

The aim of the administration tax plan is to help stop the outflow of American investment money. This had a lot to do with the increased deficit this year in the United States' international payments.

As these dollars pile up in foreign hands some can be, and are, used to buy gold from the Treasury's stocks.

In spite of its loss of $7.5 billion, the hoard still is $15.5 billion. This is well above the point of real danger, but the continuing buildup of dollars abroad increases the potential threat to the gold reserves, and to the reputation of the dollar.

Hence the administration's plan to tax purchases of foreign securities, and also its moves to raise interest rates on short term borrowing. Both are designed to make yields on investments abroad less attractive and keep dollars here.

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Chancellor Lawrence Dawson of Pine Bluff continued a temporary injunction against civil rights demonstrators Monday, saying the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution does not prohibit segregation on an individual-to-individual basis.

Robert E. Knight, operator of McDonald's Hamburgers drive-in, obtained the injunction last Tuesday. Dawson said a hearing would be held later to decide whether to make the injunction permanent.

The 14th Amendment prohibits the directing or supporting of discrimination by a state or a political subdivision, Dawson ruled, but discrimination against the Negro race is the private choice of Knight.

He also ruled that the rights of the demonstrators to speak freely and assemble peacefully, as provided by the 1st Amendment, were not being violated by the injunction.

George Howard Jr., attorney for the defendants, said the ruling would be appealed. He said, however, that the appeal might not be made until after the hearing to determine whether to make the injunction permanent.

The broadcast made no mention of casualties or arrests.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government today denounced the anti-Buddhist measures of South Viet Nam's Diem regime as repressive actions directly violating Diem pledges for a peaceful reconciliation of the Buddhist dispute.

The statement, the most outspoken official U.S. criticism of the Diem regime, was issued by the State Department as Washington authorities studied with mounting concern the reports of a get-tough campaign by President Ngo Dinh Diem against Buddhist opponents.

Columbia, S. C. to Close Parks

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — South Carolina's 26 public parks will be closed indefinitely Sept. 2 to avoid racial integration.

Names a Rights Co-ordinator

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A New York Committee has named Wiley A. Branton of Pine Bluff to coordinate seven national civil rights organizations for the next six months.

Dawson granted a separate hearing to Carleen Gail Oehler, 25, a white woman of Pine Bluff and St. Louis, Mo., because her attorney, Robert Smith of Fayetteville, did not receive notice of the hearing in time to prepare his case. Dawson said the injunction would remain in full force against her until the hearing.

Plenty of Muscles Get a Real Workout in That Bump and Grind — Strip Tease to You

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The movie career of Constance Towers seemed utterly blighted at the tender age of 12.

Working as a summer usherette in a small town theater, she committed the most unforgivable sin of filmdom.

"I accidentally set fire to the popcorn machine," she said, hanging her head in mock shame, "I lost my job on the spot."

"I wasn't in too good standing with the manager anyway. Instead of showing patrons to their seats, I spent most of the time sitting in the front row sobbing at the picture."

But in the years since then the little druggist's daughter from Whitefish, Mont., has done very well for herself. Today she lives in several worlds—all pretty wonderful.

Miss Towers became a top singer in television and the nation's supper club circuit. She married a wealthy Panama insurance tycoon, Eugene C. McGrath, whose brother is Catholic archbishop there.

She has two lovely children, and a family yacht to dive from when she goes skin diving.

Socially, she is chummy with some members of the Kennedy clan, and she is noted as one of the nation's best-dressed women.

After appearing in one film she'd prefer to forget, she got a real break when director John Ford met her at an ice show and later signed her to costar with John Wayne in "The Horse Soldiers."

In her latest picture, "The Shock Corridor," Miss Towers sheds her usual custom-designed finery to appear as a strip tease artist, a role she undertook with some misgivings.

"It threw me at first when I found I was to play a stripper, because I had never performed as a dancer," said Constance, who is blonde and willowy, bright and vivacious.

"It isn't easy to sing and take your clothes off at the same time. It's like trying to pat your head and rub your stomach simultaneously."

She studied for her part by watching some real strippers go through their chores in a Los Angeles temple of the arts known as "The Pink Pussy Cat." A choreographer then taught her how to bump and grind.

"It's a great form of exercise if you need to get into shape," she remarked learnedly. "You'd be surprised how many muscles you use."

Benny Calls Gracie Allen the Very Best

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jack Benny, the acknowledged master of timing, insists that the performer without peer in this subtle art is Gracie Allen.

Timing is the ability to do the right thing at the right moment, the quality that tells Benny, for example, exactly how long to pause before turning an exasperated face to the audience and exclaiming, "Well!"

Gracie Allen has retired but those old Burns and Allen television shows are still around and Benny is their ardent fan.

"Nobody has Gracie's timing," Benny said, "and when I see those shows today I'm constantly more amazed by it. Remember, she had one of the toughest jobs in the world, doing non-sequitur lines. They came right out of the blue, and there was nothing in the feed lines that could cue her responses. They just didn't make sense. It was a terrible job to handle them. But she'd Ooh and Ah around and come up with them exactly right."

Jack is deep in plans for his 14th season in network television, dismayed but not downhearted because of a CBS decision to separate him from "The Red Skelton Show," which has preceded him in recent years. This year, "Petticoat Junction" a new comedy series, will be slipped between the established Tuesday night shows.

"I don't understand it," Benny complained. "It was a good set-up and we helped each other. But all they seem to care about today is insuring the success of new shows. Now I'm opposite the last part of two hour-long shows and in back of an untied one."

Isn't he tired of playing the same vain, miserly character? "Oh, it never gets boring," he protested. "The character is a composite of faults you'll find in everybody—or at least in everybody's family."

"And besides," he added, "there's no limit to the cheap jokes. And we can do stinging jokes without even gag lines, because

NEW CHRISTY MINSTRELS COMING TO STATE LIVESTOCK SHOW

LITTLE ROCK—The New Christy Minstrels, 10 folk singers who swept to national popularity on television's Andy Williams Show, will be featured performers at the Grandstand Spectacular of the Arkansas Livestock Exposition here October 1-5. Land in China

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Fifteen groups of well-trained Chinese Nationalist guerrillas landed in Communist China between May 17 and the end of July, an official agency in Taipei reported today.

The agency, which declined to be identified by name, said the guerrillas established secret bases according to plan. The size of the individual groups was not disclosed, but they probably averaged about 14 men each.

Charges Swapped

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — U.N. and Communist members of the Korean Military Armistice Commission hurled charges at each other for more than five hours today and agreed only on the return of a captured officer to North Korea.

Despite a tongue lashing from U.S. Marine Gen. George H. Cloud and his demand for the return of two American helicopter pilots, Maj. Gen. Chang Chung-hwan of North Korea refused to discuss that case.

Asks to Attend a White School

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—North Little Rock School Superintendent F. B. Wright revealed Tuesday that a fifth Negro student has asked the School Board for admission to a white school next month.

Wright said Charles Brent Herderson, 13, had asked to be transferred from Jones Junior-Senior High School to Jefferson Davis Junior High School. He is to be in the eighth grade.

All of the applicants have applied for admission to either Jefferson Davis or North Little Rock High School. The School Board took the first four applications under consideration and indicated that a special meeting would be called before school opens Sept. 5.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Thirty-seven Cuban refugees jammed onto a 26-foot motor sailboat were taken aboard a Coast Guard cutter southeast of Anguilla Cay in the Bahamas on Tuesday. They will be taken to Key West, Fla.

Coast Guard officers said a Navy patrol plane spotted the refugee boat and the 165-foot cutter Nemesis, on patrol in the area, was sent to pick up the 10 men, 13 women and 14 children aboard. The refugees' boat was taken in tow.

innocence of any attempt to rig the game.

The jury, after deliberating about eight hours, awarded Butts $60,000 for general damage and $3 million for punitive purposes. The jury agreed with Butts' contention that there was malice in publication of the article.

The Post still faces a $10-million suit filed by Bryant. No trial date has been set.

After the verdict, Butts told a news conference: "I feel very humble and grateful, particularly to the people who have stood by me throughout this trial and the days which preceded it."

He said he hopes to return to coaching. Butts was a longtime coach at Georgia before being named athletic director in 1961.

The magazine article, written by Frank Graham Jr., said an Atlanta insurance salesman, George P. Burnett, overheard a telephone conversation between Butts and Bryant prior to the 1962 game.

Burnett was quoted as saying he was accidentally cut into the long-distance conversation and heard Butts giving game secrets to Bryant.

Butts, Bryant and other coaches, plus some Alabama and Georgia players, testified that no game secrets were disclosed and that information in notes allegedly made by Burnett during the conversation was of no consequence.

Johnny Griffith, who succeeded Butts as coach at Georgia, said, however, that the information could have had a bearing on the game.

roof above Throne and Fellin and experts feared another cave-in.

Expert drilling crews had worked 22 hours before it was decided to halt the operation on the advice of two of the trapped men, David Fellin, 58, of Shepperton, and Henry Throne, 28, of Hazelton, who have been directing rescue operations through a microphone lowered down their lifeline hole. Fellin and Throne reported the drilling, apparently too close to them, was cracking the roof.

H.B. Charnbury, Pennsylvania secretary of mines, said workers would start as soon as possible on another hole 18 feet west of the abandoned one.

Authorities reported that at the moment they did not plan drilling any more six-inch holes.

They asked Fellin Tuesday night to try to give them better directions as to where he was located in relation to the surface since, in drilling operations, there sometimes tends to be a drift from surface to underground.

DOROTHY DIX

GIRL, 16, WORKS HARD, SHE COMPLAINS
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I'm only 16 but just about at my wits' end. My mother has to work and is very tired when she gets home. This means that all of the house cleaning, ironing, washing, gardening and care of my two sisters falls on me. Our house is large. What with school, dating, church activities and just plain talking or going out with girl friends, I'm busy. My mother gripes all the time about what I don't do. If, on one night I try to catch up with ironing and haven't time for the house, she scolds. Then if I clean house and the ironing suffers, she'll kick.

My sisters are no help at all. I'm not the complaining type but life at home is a prison. It's reached the point where I dread to come back to the house. Help me show my mother what she's doing before it's too late. —Waiting

Dear Waiting: I detect an undercurrent of martyrdom in your letter. Some girls seem to be guilty of it at much too early an age. You are leading a full life, to be sure, but what an invaluable preparation it is for the time when you'll be running your own home. You'll have a head start over most of your friends. I note that even with all you have to do there's still time for church activities and some fun, so I can't believe that your home is such a prison.

Why don't you delegate some of your responsibilities to your sisters? They could at least do their own washing and ironing, clean their rooms, and take turns with housework. You have to show them how at first, but that little extra effort will pay off and teach them a lesson in co-operation fully as important as anything they learn in school.

Do you have a father? If so couldn't he handle the outside work? Ideally, the smooth functioning of any household should be the joint responsibility of every member of the family. It's in the home where cooperation and a sense of responsibility are first inculcated. When your mother seems in a good mood talk over how you feel. Perhaps you could put your heads together and come up with a chart, listing the names of your family, jobs to be done, and days of the week, with spaces for check marks. It should then be explained to your sisters and posted in a prominent spot.

I have seen this device used successfully by a family in which the oldest of four is 14, and the youngest 7. It saves a lot of nagging, especially if fines are imposed for neglect of duties.

Dear Helen: One would imagine that a 19-year-old girl who is five feet five, weighs 115 pounds and has bust, waist and hip measurements of 34-24-35 would have no gripes. But she does. That girl is I and I feel like living as a hermit because all my weight is centered on hips, thighs and calves. I know you'll say this is a problem for the beauty editor. But it's emotional as well and has got me down. If this were the days of hoopskirts I'd be the belle of the ball but in this era of slacks, shorts and foregoers pants, I'm a wallflower. Help! —Desperate the next tax due would be $11,356. Dist. Atty. Charles Conway objected, saying such computation was immaterial because there was no joint returns in any year except 1959.

Judge John E. Miller said he would allow the figures to go into the record because the trial involved a question of whether fraudulence and willfulness was involved.

Miller overruled today a motion for a judgment in favor of Hurst. The motion was entered in the record Tuesday and was ruled on after the government rested its case today.

Miller would have upheld the motion only if he thought the government had no case against Hurst.

Kelly, the government's last (184th) witness, testified Tuesday that Hurst had $64,119 more taxable income than he reported from 1956 through 1959.

Kelly said he based his figure on testimony thus far in the trial and documents introduced as evidence. He computed an income well-being. "It's hard to explain," Elsie told me, "but the help comes from within. My girls look and feel very differently but it's your inward feeling that counts."

Dear Helen: My husband is a lush and our marriage a mockery. After sinking to a new low this month for the umpteenth time he promises to quit drinking and join Alcoholics Anonymous. What are the requirements? —Wreck

Dear Wreck: The only requirements is a fervent desire to quit drinking. Since your husband gives his word or honor that he will stop, his intentions are evidently good. But good intentions are not enough. He needs the help and support of those in the same boat. Check the telephone directory for the address of the AA group nearest your home. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet "Alcoholism." Read it aloud to your husband.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

tax deficiency for Hurst of $22,909. This was $4 less than the amount the government contends Hurst owes on income for the years 1956-59.

The first defense witness went on the stand Tuesday and more were expected today after cross-examination of Kelly. George W. Howell, a former Internal Revenue Service agent who was the first witness for Hurst, said he spent 16 hours checking Hurst's 1954 income tax return and tax records and that he found them "adequate to my satisfaction."

The defense did not indicate how many witnesses it will call. Hurst has maintained that he will be cleared when his records are presented.

Congress Has a Tag of 'Do Nothing'

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats have run Congress since 1955 but they paid a lot more attention to business under President Dwight D. Eisenhower than they are doing under President Kennedy.

The present Congress, which some people think may be here until Christmas, probably is the greatest do-nothing Congress in a generation. The reason primarily seems to be lack of tough leadership.

For six of his eight White House years, Eisenhower had to depend on a Democratic Congress to put his programs through. It got a lot of work done, although not always to his satisfaction.

None of those Congresses finished later than mid-September. Most were finished before September.

Kennedy has expressed approval of Congress' work so far in his administration but it has left a lot of people cold. And it takes longer and longer to get its job finished.

The 1961 session, ending Sept. 27, was the longest since 1951, when this country was fighting the Korean War. The 1962 session wound up Oct. 13, the longest peacetime session since 1949 and the longest in an election year since 1942. This one will be longer still.

The Senate in Eisenhower's time was under the guidance of Lyndon B. Johnson, now vice president. Speaker Sam Rayburn, a Texan like Johnson, bossed the House. He was still boss for part of 1961 but died that year.

These men were tough, hard-driving masters of detail. Johnson seems unquestionably to have been the best Senate leader in this country.

His successor, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, is a mild and gentle man, immensely liked, but not in the same league with Johnson for day in and day out hammering. Rayburn's successor, John W. McCormack of Massachusetts is well liked, too. But he's no Rayburn.

There also is the question of presidential leadership to get Congress, no matter what its mood, to act on White House programs.

In one way it is difficult to draw a contrast between Eisenhower and Kennedy in this field. Kennedy has followed Eisenhower's technique of never fighting with Congress.

Since he had to deal with a Democratic-run Congress through most of his two terms, Eisenhower never was in a position to put on the pressure in the way Kennedy should be able to do. Kennedy's own party is running Congress.

But much of the time Kennedy looks half-hearted in fighting for his programs. A good example was medical care for the aged, one of his major proposals last year.

He made only one public speech for it, and that was off the cuff, and the whole thing melted. And the members of Congress who bottled it up got the kid glove treatment.

This year, until civil rights took first place, a tax cut was his biggest program. But that hasn't passed either house and may not get through. He compromised on this one early — too early, some people think.

It might be argued that Southern Democrats, peeved at the Kennedy administration for its other activities in the civil rights field, have been slowing up the works. But that's hardly a full story.

It should not be forgotten that Johnson and Rayburn in Eisenhower's time, over the opposition of Southern Democrats, pushed through the first two civil rights bills in this century, got a lot of other work done, and finished early.

Two of the biggest factors in the present stumbling along seem to be undistinguished Democratic leadership on Capitol Hill and a

Blasingame Is a Spoiler of No-Hitters

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

In this age of specialization, Don Blasingame ranks as a specialist's specialist. He spoils no-hit bids.

Washington's handsome second baseman did it again Tuesday night with a fourth-inning bunt single, the only hit off Moe Drabowsky in the opener of an American League doubleheader at Kansas City. The Athletics romped in the first game, 9-0, with Doc Edwards batting in five runs, and won the second 7-5 in 14 innings on Jerry Lumpe's two-run homer.

Blasingame also played the spoiler against Stan Williams of the New York Yankees on Aug. 6, doubling for the lone Senator hit off the right-hander. Last year with Cincinnati, Blasingame accounted for the only hit against Cal Koonce in a game against the Chicago Cubs.

Dick Donovan's steady pitching and Vic Davallillo's run-producing single in the ninth inning led Cleveland over New York 2-1 Tuesday night, trimming the Yankees' American League lead to 8½ games. Chicago's runner-up White Sox belted Boston 10-2 as lefty Juan Pizarro became a 15-game winner for the first time in his career with a five-hitter.

Hank Aguirre pitched a two-hitter and got home run support from Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash in Detroit's 6-0 shutout of Minnesota. The Los Angeles Angels and the Orioles were rained out at Baltimore.

The Los Angeles Dodgers boosted their National League lead to 6½ games, beating second-place St. Louis 7-5. Milwaukee trimmed San Francisco 6-1. Cincinnati edged Houston 1-0. Pittsburgh downed Chicago 5-3 and Philadelphia split with New York, winning the second game 2-1 in 12 innings after dropping the opener to the Mets 4-0.

In addition to the bunt hit by Blasingame, Drabowsky allowed just two walks in the rout of Washington. Edwards drove in his five runs with a homer, double and single. Claude Osteen was the loser.

Lumpe's homer in the 14th inning of the second game came off loser Don Rudolph with two out, breaking a tie that had lasted from the seventh. Dave Wick-

Arkansas Player Loses March

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (AP)—Becky Glasscock of Pine Bluff, Ark., was defeated 9 and 8 Tuesday in the second round of the Women's National Amateur golf championship, ending Arkansas hopes for a champion.

She lost to Nancy Holmes of Nashville, Tenn.

Susan Gregory, also of Pine Bluff, lost in the first round Monday.

State Cotton Harvest in Some Areas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The cotton harvest is underway in Arkansas and farmers say they expect a better than average yield. But most cotton needs a good rain.

This was the report today from the Cotton Division Classing Office of the Agricultural Marketing Service. The service said 22 samples of new crop cotton have been received for classification by the office.

Dry weather has slowed the production of bolls. Irrigation pumps were used in numerous counties last week. Yet farmers say they are satisfied with the crop.

Insects are being held under control. Only a few sections report serious damage by bollworms. The medium and higher grades of white cotton continued in best demand. Bid prices ranged from 25 to 75 points above the CCC loan rates.

Spot cotton prices changed in the past week in the Little Rock market but there was no trading. The current price for middling 1-16 inches cotton was 34.35 cents per pound last week, down 40 points from the previous week.

Sham was the winner in relief. Yankee southpaw Whitey Ford, 17-7, survived bases-loaded jams in the seventh and eighth innings at New York, but couldn't get by the one in the ninth. Woodie Held's double, a walk to Donovan and a single by Jerry Kindall filled the bases before Davillio sent in the deciding run with his two-out hit.

Country Club Plans Labor Day Tourney

Hope Country Club will be the site of an 18 hole handicapped golf tournament on Labor Day. Scoring will be on the Calloway Handicap system, therefore, it will not be necessary for entrants to qualify before the tournament.

All participants should register in the pro shop and pay the $1.00 entry fee before beginning play. Players may make up their own games and play at their convenience.

Prizes will be awarded for the first three places and also for low net score, most birdies and most pars in the tournament. An explanation of the Calloway system will be posted on the club bulletin board the day of the tournament.

On extremely rare occasions, a little man with aluminum gray eyes and a gray-white mustache strolls with his wife in a park, not noticed, not wanting to be noticed.

That happens to those who lose out in the Soviet Union.

Molotov, 72, lost out in one of the most dramatic struggles of Soviet history. In 1957, four years after Stalin died, he made the mistake of trying to drive out of power a rising man named Nikita Khrushchev.

Molotov, who for over a quarter of a century was one of the big figures in shaping the government and foreign policy of the Soviet Union, was named Soviet ambassador to Mongolia. Later he was transferred to Vienna as representative to an international committee dealing with peaceful uses of atomic energy.

It was a letdown for a man who had traded cold stares and colder words with the great of the world—Eisenhower, Truman, Churchill, Ernest Bevin, Dulles, Gen. Marshall.

In 1961, when Khrushchev met President Kennedy in Vienna, there was a great lineup of Russians as the train came in from Moscow. At the head of the line were Austrian officials, the Soviet ambassador, and embassy personnel. Far down the line, among the junior clerks, stood the strangely withered little man whose cold “nyet” played a major role in driving Western nations into a defensive alliance against communism.

Khrushchev shook hands with Molotov, exchanged a few quiet words on a suddenly hushed station platform, and went on.

Four months later, Khrushchev felt that the old Stalin group needed another going over in a revived attack on the “cult of personality.” In the congress of the Soviet party, Molotov and his associates were denounced again. Scores of murders were attributed to them.

In November, a month after the congress closed, he returned to Moscow by train. Only the secret police, his daughter and Western newsmen met him. His daughter led him and Mrs. Molotov to a car.

A year ago Western reporters discovered he was in a hospital with gripe. Not a word of it was in the Soviet press.

There has been no report that Molotov was pensioned, but doubtless he has been. He and his wife evidently live with their daughter and her husband in an apartment not far from the foreign office.

Griffith made the announcement Tuesday after a federal court jury awarded Butts $3,000. Gregory testified for Butts and Griffith testified for the Post in the suit.

Griffith said Gregory, defensive line and end coach, was replaced by assistant Coach Wyatt Posey.

Arkansas Squeaks Past Buffalo 10-9

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Arkansas squeaked by Buffalo 10-9 in International League baseball Tuesday night on Wayne Graham's 11th-inning double that brought home John Herrnstein.

The Travelers had blown a 9-4 lead in the seventh, when the Bisons scored five times to tie the game.

In other league play Columbus downed Jacksonville 6-2 and 3-1. Atlanta whipped Indianapolis 5-2 in an 11-inning fray. Syracuse set Toronto back 5-2 and 7-5 and Richmond nipped Rochester 2-1 and 6-1.

Arkansas collected 18 hits off the Herd, including four homers. Richie Allen picked up his 26th and 27th home runs and Dan Cater and Norm Gigon each slammed one off starter Craig Anderson.

New Glitter in Bristling Golf Duels

By JOE MOOSHIL

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Those bristling golf duels between Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus take on added glitter the next three weeks with one or the other having a chance to win $89,000.

Palmer qualified for the $75,000 World Series of Golf when he smacked down Phil Rodgers and Jacky Cupit on Tuesday in a three-man playoff. Palmer shot an impressive one-under-par 69 over the Firestone Country Club's massive 7,165 yards, which played unusually long because of recent rains.

Rodgers had a 37-37-74, and Cupit 38-38-76, while Palmer came in with 34-35, nailing two birdies and straying from par only once.

Palmer will defend his American Golf Classic title here beginning Thursday, and the no. 1 challenger will be Nicklaus. The $50,000 Classic, drawing a field of 92 including some of the country's top amateurs, has a first-place prize of $9,000, with an additional $5,000 in bonuses.

Should either Palmer or Nicklaus win the Classic and its bonus money, the winner will be in position for the $89,000 sweep.

After the classic, the twosome will hook up with Gary Player in a $50,000 exhibition in Waukegan, Ill., for a top prize of $25,000 before returning to Firestone for the World Series on Sept. 7-8, which will pay the winner $50,000.

Also featured in the World Series will be the U.S. open champion Julius Boros and British Open champion Bob Charles. Nicklaus won the Masters and the PGA, leaving one spot open and Palmer grabbed it in the playoff with Rodgers and Cupit.

Dodgers Add to Lead With Win Over Cards

By MIKE RATHET

Turns out that sound we heard last week wasn't the Los Angeles Dodgers pushing the panic button after all, just Al Dark with a harmless bee in his bonnet.

Since last Thursday, when Dark's defending champions from San Francisco had trimmed the Dodgers' National League lead to three games, all the sting has gone out of the Giants.

The front-running Dodgers, meanwhile, have reeled off six consecutive victories—the latest a 7-5 decision over second-place St. Louis that increased their lead to 6½ games.

Milwaukee handed the Giants their fourth straight setback, riding Lee Maye's three-run tie-breaking homer to a 6-1 victory at San Francisco. The loss dropped the Giants 7½ off the pace and one game in front of Philadelphia.

The Phillies, who split with the New York Mets, had their eight-game winning streak snapped on a four-hit 4-0 shutout by rookie Grover Powell but took the second game of a two-nighter 2-1 in 12 innings to close up on the Giants.

Cincinnati's Joe Nuxhall posted his 100th NL victory in a 1-0 victory over Houston, and Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-3.

The American League-leading New York Yankees were beaten by Cleveland 2-1, the Chicago White Sox walloped Boston 10-2, Detroit shut out Minnesota 6-0 and Kansas City swept a pair from Washington 9-0 and 7-5 in 14 innings. The Los Angeles Angels game at Baltimore was rained out.

The Dodgers trailed 4-2 going into the fourth, but a five-run fourth inning beat the Cardinals, who came into Los Angeles fresh from a three-game sweep of the Giants.

Bill White's error on a grounder by John Roseboro let Frank Howard and Willie Davis score with the tying runs. Singles by Maury Wills and Jim Gilliam then drove in the lead run and Ron Fairly hit a two-run single that put it out of reach. Bob Miller, 8-8, protected the edge with five innings of one-hit relief work.

Giants' starter Billy Pierce took a 1-0 lead into the seventh but consecutive singles by Gene Oliver, Joe Torre and Roy McMillan scored the tying run and brought on Bob Bolin. Bolin got two outs before Maye drove his homer over the left field fence. Bob Sadowski, 3-5, got the victory with Bob Shaw's three innings of scoreless relief. Pierce, 3-9, took the loss.

Two fliers killed when their jet went overboard in landing on the flight deck of the supercarrier Constellation, critically injuring three members of the deck crew.

Two civilians killed and a third injured when a jet drone plane veered off its runway at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., and crashed on a busy street as it was being landed by remote control.

Two airmen killed and a third missing in the collision of two Air Force B47 jet bombers on a training flight over Irwin, Iowa. Three other airmen were injured.

Also Monday, three U.S. Navy jets crashed after becoming lost in fog near the northwest coast of France. Two pilots ejected and parachuted safely.

One of the abandoned planes slammed into a house at Plouarnel, France, injuring a couple and their 7-month-old baby. The third pilot was reported missing at sea.
